The silently floating Owl was hit by a beer bottle
It fell into burning bleachers

From serene and quiet slumber, yanked to ringing reality.
Another false alarm.

The dog in the senate room is experienced.
The meeting is called to order and he falls asleep!

How like the bumblebee!
The professor droning on,
oblivious to glorious spring.

With calm arrogance
he sits, and talks,
quietly lying to us.

Two finals tomorrow,
A paper due the next.
Why did I party so?

In the middle of the party
drinking, laughing, dancing:
Lonliness strikes.

On stage so warm,
in life so cold.
Which is her act?

With clear eye and sincere voice
they speak Revealed Truth.
Why does my blood run cold?

The bat cracks, frisbees fly,
Heliophiles unpeel.
Spring arrives.

Half the crowd at Stanley Park is soaking up the sun.
The other half is watching them.

Heat! Noise!
Drunken confusion!
Another S.U. dance.

I. Harvey Roazen Ph.D.
In Memoriam

On Wednesday, 1 March 1978, Dr. Harvey Roazen died. He was 49 years old. It's always a tragedy when death claims a man who is still young, who was in the midst of what has been termed, the "generative years". In the case of Harvey Roazen, the tragedy was even more profound, because to have known Harvey was to learn from him. He taught us all so much both as a teacher and as a person. And the tragedy of his death we recognize now, is our tragedy for he could have taught us so much more.

All who knew him recognized that Harvey Roazen was intellectually brilliant. He possessed an encyclopedic-like knowledge, not only of psychology but of the liberal arts in general. A brilliant mind and a wealth of knowledge are major assets, especially for the college professor. There were some, especially students, however, who felt that these qualities of mind were not Harvey's most salient or most important characteristics. Rather, these people focused and related to Harvey's other traits — to his remarkable capacity for caring and to his exquisite sensitivity to the discomfort of others. This was a man who loved and who gave of himself unsparingly. And it is for this reason especially, that so many in turn, loved Harvey back.

What made Harvey remarkable in the eyes of both students and faculty was that quite apparently, he did not expend energy to be loveable. Indeed, Harvey did not want to rule or control, but to serve. He never demeaned. He enhanced.

If we stop to think about it we realize that in his relations with us Harvey Roazen was not so much a taker as he was a giver. He was truly unique because he was one of those successful human beings who found far more reward in giving than in taking.

He was a teacher, albeit somewhat disorganized. To many however, he was the personnification of the dedicated teacher for, he responded, and positively, to each and every student who questioned, requested or who needed him. His function he believed to be, to serve the student. His goal was the student taught. Thus, while he seldom had time to organize himself, he always had time for the student. If Harvey was uncommitted to pedagogical efficiency (and he was) it was precisely because he was totally committed to the idea that his function was to serve the student. SERVICE, was Harvey's raison d'etre. It was the final product of his love, of his remarkable capacity to give.

Harvey the teacher, was complemented by Harvey, the crusader. As was so true about so much else about him however, Harvey was a very different kind of crusader. Unlike others, Harvey's crusades were not so much concerned with the ventilation of personal hostility as they were genuinely concerned with the rectification of injustice.

Harvey possessed another quality, one about which few of us knew — unflagging courage. It was only after his death that some of us learned that Harvey knew for at least two years that his time with all of us was indeed short. He continued to work. He continued his functions and if anything, took on more. With the exception of his wife none among us knew about his physical agonies and pains or of the concommitant emotional anguish which such a feeling human being unquestionably experienced.

Several months have elapsed since Harvey passed away. We find that we miss him — and alot. Never more, shall we chuckle seeing him shuffle down the corridor 'a la Charlie Chaplin. Never more shall we be startled by his wardrobe, always of vintage passe' and often of colors bombastic. Never more, shall we be entertained listening to him deliver one of his impromptu expositions on everything from astrophysics to how Sicilians make wine.

And we will go on missing him, all of us because we all recognize at some level that he would have continued to enhance and to enrich our lives. Still, in the years, too few, that we knew him, he taught us so very much, this Professor Roazen. He taught us how to love, how to serve, how to give, how to amend wrong and even, how to die.

EVENTS

Freshman-Junior Picnic

by Richard Zwicker

A new twist was employed at this year's freshman-junior picnic: organization. The end result was a more enjoyable and meaningful time for those involved.

Instead of the students just eating and leaving, a number of activities were held after the meal. There was a human pyramid contest, the winning "structure" having a base of 18 bodies. A spirited tug of war was won by the freshman class. The juniors brushed off the defeat, rationalizing that there were more freshmen than juniors.

Other activities included football games, piggy back fights and frisbee throwing.

After the games the junior officers sat the freshmen down and conducted a rap ression on the upcoming year.

There were 685 students on hand, 110 more than last year. A number of teachers also showed up, some even participating in the tug of war.

Bill O'Leary, president of the junior class, was enthusiastic as usual. "If the freshman class can continue to show the enthusiasm they demonstrated at the picnic, things are going to be looking brighter at WSC."

For once the traditional picnic achieved its purpose of getting the two classes together.

And the sun was even shining.

Clean Up Camp Westy

"Most people thought it was cancelled because we had a rain date set," Chuck Fitzgerald, vice-president of senate said about Clean-Up Camp Westy Day which took place on Oct. 29.

Despite a small turnout, the group of about 25 students and administration members filled "the pick-up truck three or four times."

"The people that came out did a very good job," Fitzgerald said.

Fitzgerald said that the day was a success in the sense that the campus was cleaned up. He said that the ultimate purpose of the day failed. "It's whole purpose was to get people to start thinking about the garbage they've been throwing around," Fitzgerald said.

Dean Norman Hiersche was among the administrators who turned out at "Clean-up Camp Westy Day."

Seascape

The W.S.C. Theatre Co. presented Edward Albee's "Seascape" at the Student Union Theatre, Nov. 17, 18, and 19.

The Theatre Co. hired as guest director, Margaret Van Sant of City Studio Theatre, Northampton. Van Sant is director and coordinator of CST. "Jessie and the Bandit Queen" and "Play With the Tiger," both produced at CST last season, are two of Van Sant's directing accomplishments.

"Seascape" is a humorous portrayal of two middle-aged couples who meet and evolve their lives at the beach.

Sue Dean Olsen and John Mahoney play the 'Average American Couple,' Nancy and Charlie. Lori A. Lusczynski and Roman Alis portray Sarah and Leslie, the less than typical lizard couple.

Ginsberg Was Here

Allen Ginsberg was here (with friend pony-tailed poet Peter Orlovsky on banjo and weirdness), competing with "Holocaust", the times and "Who's Allen Ginsberg?"

All the freaks were there. Kerouac was there, a little drunk maybe, but there. Even Neal Cassidy, though not quite as fast as when he was On the Road, made an appearance.

The performance started off with Ginsberg's "America".

Ginsberg brought his own band with him. With Ginsberg on something that looked like an accordian and Orlovsky supplying falsetto harmonies the duo launched into rousing renditions of William Blake's hit tunes from "Songs of Innocence" and "Songs of Experience". Showcased in the songs were fluttery voicings and refrains that seemed to go on forever.

After Ginsberg's two hour performance (which included Orlovsky reading some of his own rather bizarre poems in a screaming monotone voice reminiscent of an old town crier), there was an informal get together in the alumni lounge.

Senator Proxmire Speaks At WSC

On April 2, 1978 approximately 200 persons turned out for one of the most dynamic lectures this college has ever seen. The reason was to hear the controversial Senator William Proxmire, (Dem.) Wisconsin, speak on the topic of the "Efficiency of Defense Spending."

Senator Proxmire has been coined "Nag of the Year" by the N.Y. Daily News, "Senator Scrooge" due to New York's fiscal problems, and his most cherished award given by NASA, "the earth is flat award" for his opposition of their spending 14 million dollars to communicate with alien life. NASA also gave him the "if Proxmire had his way, Columbus would still be in port award". The Senator is not without giving out his own awards, for every month he awards to the most inefficient Govt. Bureau or Dept. his "Golden Fleece Award", for outstanding waste of taxpayers money.

Senator Proxmire premised his lecture on a sound theory that "any spending for defense we don't need is a waste". He also maintained that defense spending has a "peculiar inflationary effect."

Senator Proxmire believes we need to pursue the following: "To achieve peace we do need a strong military force, but for one purpose, to build the basis for arms control and eventual reduction." "Right now our strength would be enhanced by cutting the FAT out." "We would not have a weaker force but have a stronger force." "Also, to achieve arms peace we should cut arms sales, and cut them now, while doing our very best to stop nuclear proliferation."

Mime Troupe Fills S.U.

Ghostly white faces. Clownish red lips. Black accentuated eye brows. Silence. These were some of the characteristics featured when the Kenyon Martin Mime troupe from Boston performed in the S.U. Theatre to a standing room only crowd.

For the unitiated, mime is, in Kenyon Martin's own words "the art of communicating a universal idea nonverbally, with body and space." The body's gestures are "very simple, pure and economical."

The performance by the two man, one woman troupe consisted of 11 skits, ranging in subject matter from a man eating his lunch on a park bench to a dramatized version of someone being born, living and dying.

The props were spare. A flat of a castle wall with pointed spires flanked the left of the stage. Occasionally recorded background music meshed with the actions of the performers.

The March To Nowhere

Thursday afternoon, February 2, at 3:30 Student Senate staged a march in protest of President Robert L. Randolph's decision to turn Scanlon cafeteria over to a concessionaire.

At zero hour Scanlon was jammed with people. Bobbing signs spelling it all out ("Don't cook Harvey!" etc.) hovered over the avalanche of heads. The exhilaration of protest was in the air.

"We're going to march to Randolph's house, and if he isn't there we'll go to Parenzo and talk to Sherburne!" (spoken in a cappella scream, accent on "Randolph" and "Sherburne").

But when we got to his house, the president wasn't home. It kind of put a damper on the surprise party, but we left our calling cards so Randolph would know we still thought about him.

Next we went to see Sherburne in Parenzo, storming the halls. But his office was locked.

During the course of our travels we marched past the caf.

Harvey Allen himself walked out and waved. The crowd went wild. The emotional fervor was just too much.

At Randolph's house Channel 22 interviewed Joel Magrini (Student Senate president) and he outlined what we were trying to accomplish. Basically we are trying to show the administration that they can't push us around.

After the interview Dean Sherburne actually did talk to us, in Denver auditorium. He didn't look too convincing, but the conditions weren't exactly conducive for a serious lecture. He said the release of Harvey Allen wasn't his decision.

The major accomplishment of the march was the fact that it made noise. Stopping traffic, the television cameras — they made the noise a little louder. The thing about noise is that it eventually dies down. When the dust clears, everything is like it was before.

Bates Good For Rat

The Rathskellars' move from the Student Union was a good one, according to Donald Ford, director of the Student Union.

Ford said Bates Cafeteria can accommodate 300 persons while the 'old' rathskellar could only hold about 200 persons.

In addition, Bates has hot and cold running water, and other essential equipment that the Student Union lacks.

Another major consideration was that by converting a cafeteria into a pub, there is no problem in obtaining a license to sell beer and wine.

Ford said that the bowling alley in the S.U. was considered as a possible rathskellar location, but the estimated cost of the endeavor would have been $50,000. The total cost of converting Bates was approximately $7,000.

Building a separate pub on campus seems to be blocked by budget and obtaining a license.

On the whole, Ford is optimistic. He said it is starting to break even, and that Thursday night crowds have been exceptionally good for business.

Ford on what a rathskellar should be: "I believe it's a place for entertainment, good conversation, and relaxation. I don't want to see it turn into a dive. If it does, it will be closed."

Students March

Approximately 200 students, faculty and staff members marched in protest of a picture in the Owl of students dressed as Klu Klux Klan members.

The picture appeared in a photo page on the Halloween dance. The Third World Organized the march on the day after the issue of the paper was distributed on campus. They charged the Owl with being insensitive to problems and history of blacks.

The march started at the Student Union and went through the Scanlon Hall cafeteria and to Dever Auditorium. Dean of Students James McKenna heard the complaints of the people on the march.

The people on the march said a race problem existed on campus. A meeting was set up for any one interested in trying to solve the problem.

"The picture was used because it was good print quality. We were trying to meet a deadline and were insensitive to the subject matter of the picture," Paul LeBlanc, editor-in-chief of the Owl said. "It was my mistake and the picture should never have been printed."

Kurty Retires

By Scott M. Danzig

When soccer coach John Kurty came here in 1966, whoever would have thought that he'd retire one of the winningest coaches in the nation?

The answer is quite simple: most. If they were familiar with his career, first at Amherst Jr. High, and then Ludlow Senior High School.

In a career that included soccer, football, volleyball, baseball, and basketball, obviously coach Kurty will be most remembered for his contributions to the sport of soccer. In a profession where you have to deal with the personalities of many young men, and a different set every four years or so, what is truly amazing is that in nearly three decades, he never had a losing season.

Shortly after Christmas the Owls mentor announced that he's retiring, not resigning, but will continue teaching.

Kurty said that teaching and coaching are both full time jobs, and it's just too tough to continue to do both.

Kurty was instrumental in building the fine program Westfield has, sending teams to post season play six years in a row.

In 1974, with an overall record of 17-4-2, the Owls traveled to Wheaton College, Illinois, and placed third in the Division III National Championships.

When national championships are at stake many coaches and players tend to get nervous, but for Kurty it must have been commonplace, having played for national champs at Penn State in 1950 and 51.

"I've had the pleasure of meeting and working with a lot of fine young men," Kurty said.

In his 12 years directing soccer at Westfield Kurty has accumulated an impressive 153-37-12 record, and retires with an overall record of 303-56-29.

WSC Tops!

WESTFIELD, Ma. — The Smith Cup, a trophy symbolic of overall athletic excellence among the Massachusetts State Colleges, has been awarded to Westfield State College. The College's teams have won the Cup for three of the last five years.

Scoring for the award is based on points given for the final conference standings of MASCAC teams. The top three competing colleges receive points towards their final totals.

The year 1976 was the first in which Womens sports — including Tennis, Field Hockey, Basketball, Volleyball, and Softball — were incorporated into the scoring system. In this way, the Conference gained a unified and total approach to MASCAC competition.

Basketball

Rough For B-Ball

By Jeff Connell

The Westfield State College Men's Basketball Team ended their season with three disappointing losses to Fitchburg, North Adams, and Framingham State to finish with an 11-14 record.

Coach Sartori's squad started slowly this year with a 4-9 mark, but matured as a team and worked their way to .500, sparked night after night by the consistency of Team Most Valuable Player Tim Farrell.

The 6'5" sophmore from Dalton, Mass. led the Owls in virtually every offensive category. Farrell won the MVP award for his effort in the WNEC Classic, and was named to two other All-Tournament Teams in the Codfish Bowl and the Mayor's Tournament.

During the course of the season WSC was involved in nine games which were decided by just one or two points, and lost eight of those.

At one point, however, the Owls won seven of nine games.

The pleasant surprise of the season was Wilbur Daniels, the 27 year old freshman who came on to start later into the season, and played with enthusiasm of an 18 year old. Daniels, who has the highest vertical jump on the team, did the job on the court, and will do so for a couple more years.

A plus for the Owls was the balanced rebounding. No one man dominated under the boards. Bob Westbrook, the 6'7" freshman who blocked five consecutive shots vs. Fitchburg last November to set a school record, is still learning but should be ready next year.

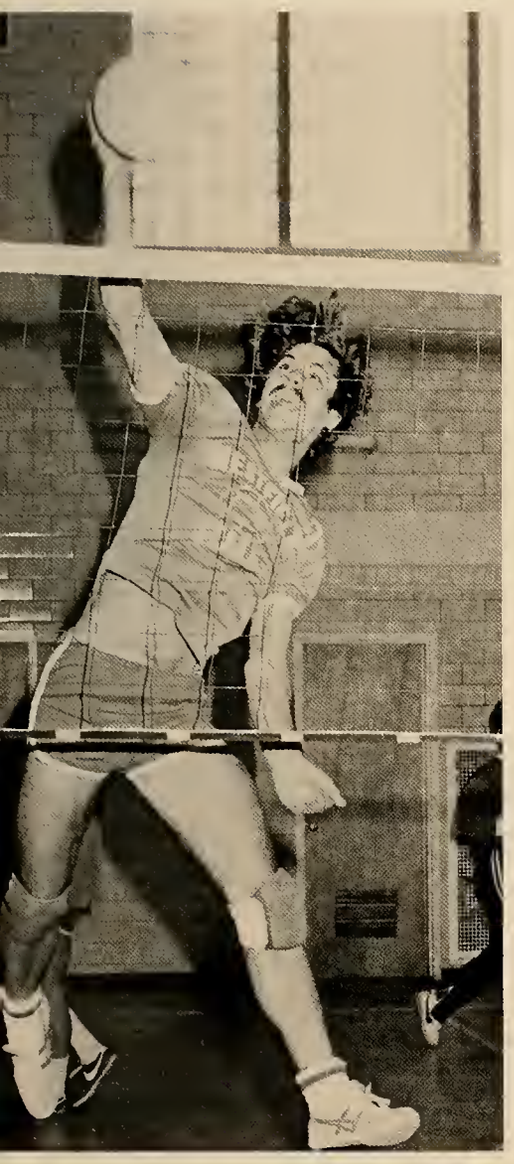
VOLLEYBALL



WSC Spikers Underway

If William Morgan were alive today, he would be astonished to learn that a game he invented for middle-aged men who could no longer withstand the rigors of basketball is now one of the fastest growing sports in the nation.

Originally called minonette, volleyball has developed into the fast moving, team game of power volleyball. The designation power volleyball came into being when national and international commissions were formed which set up strict rules and regulations to facilitate league competition. Because of the rules, the power game requires a mastery of basic skills and an understanding of certain game strategies which aren't normally emphasized in recreational volleyball. Concentration, quick thinking, and constant movement are also required of every player.

It is only fitting that Westfield State should have both a men's and a women's power volleyball team due to the college's close proximity to Holyoke, the birthplace of volleyball. In fact, W.S.C. is one of only three state schools in New England that fields a men's varsity volleyball team. Worcester State and Lyndon State(Vermont)are the other two schools.

According to second year coach, Claude Morin, this year's men's team shows signs of improvement.

"I feel that this year's squad is more advanced than last year's" he said.

"We've come away from local scrimmages and have an ambitious schedule for a state college."

"We have a team that can compete with any of the 21 colleges in our league," he added.

At present, Morin's main concern is to get W.S.C. established within the league which may be expanding to as many as 50 teams. According to Morin, this is a challenge because, "The competition in the league is tougher and the overall quality of play has improved."

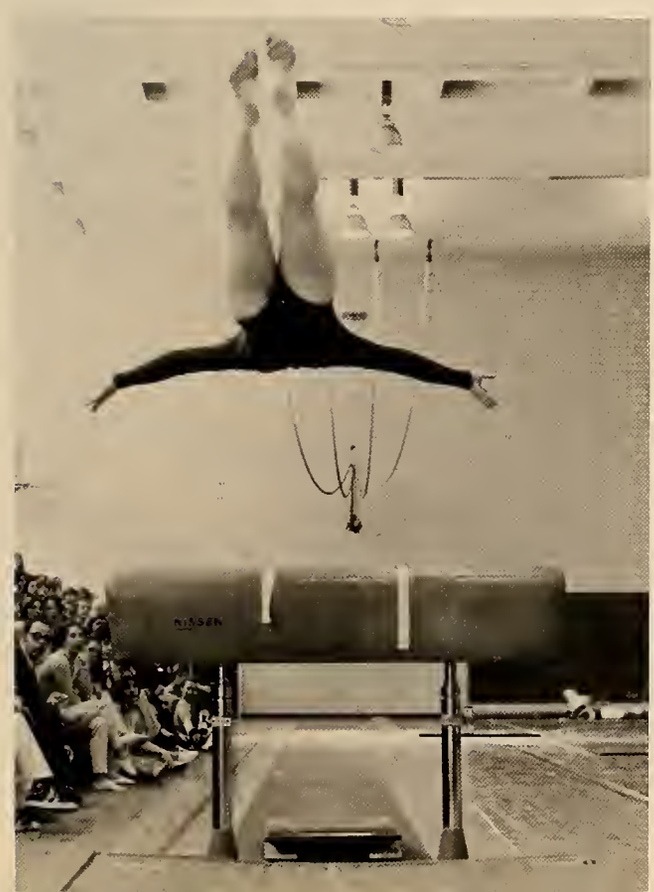
Women Show
Promise

By Andre Elichalt

The Westfield State College Women's Gymnastic Team opened their 1978 season on a sour note when Northeastern University defeated Coach Bob Leclair's squad 108.65-102.60. Westfield started fast when Leclair's team completely dominated the floor exercises. First place went to Debbie Rice with a score of 7.7, 2nd place went to Cheryl Dean and a nice Decker placed third. In the vaulting competition, Freshman standout Decker tied for first, while teammate Mary O'Neil was a close second. Junior Susie Lehto placed second on the beam with a score of 6.7.

This year's team is very youth oriented. Only two members of the team are seniors. (Laurie Drake and Cheryl Dean) Debbie Rice and Co-Captains elect Marianne Simone and Susie Lehto round out the class of '79. The majority lies with the sophomores who are Melanie Voter, Sue Bird, Joanne LaLiberte and Mary O'Neil. The trio of newcomers to this year's team are Kathy Serpis, Sue LeBrun, and Janice Decker.

Coach Leclair is very pleased with his teams over-all performance so far this season. He believes that the scores from the last meet are concrete signs for progress. "All of last season we never broke 100 points", said LeClair, "In our first meet we not only broke 100 points, but we scored 13 points better than last years high of 89."



HOCKEY

WSC Division III Champs!

Holubowich is optimistic about the future of hockey here at State. "Westfield has a lot more to offer its players, a better curriculum, better campus and better social life that the other state schools, the only thing we're lacking is a rink."

When questioned about the possibility of moving up to Division II, Holubowich said he'd be glad to if we get the kind of commitment we got in the beginning.

All I want would be to have a better schedule, and the commitment that if given a few years we'll build the kind of team in Division II that we have now in Di vision III. Our division is a developmental one, and I certainly don't want our fans to leave games after the first period when we're winning by outrageous scores," he added.

"I'm not asking for more money, except we might need some for traveling." People might not realize that all we have paid for us is our practice time, and the rest we have to make up for at the gate," Holubowich stated.

"We don't worry too much about our team drawing fans, we usually have a full house, and our fans are great," Holubowich said.

By Scott M. Danzig

"It's quite exciting and our objective has finally been reached," Mike Holubowich, the coach from the outset of Owl hockey history upped his overall record this season from 27-30 to 47-32 after this year's successful campaign. It's common knowledge that the pucksters skated to an undefeated 16-0 divisional mark, while bowing only twice for an overall record of 20-2(5-2 in Div. II play).

TRACK

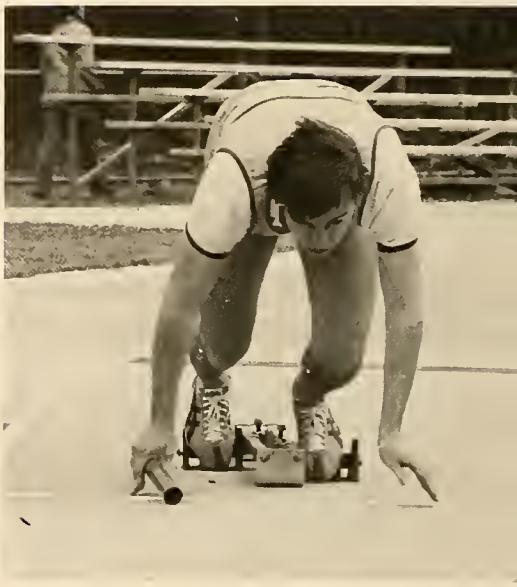
12 And 5 For Trackmen
By Brian Pienta

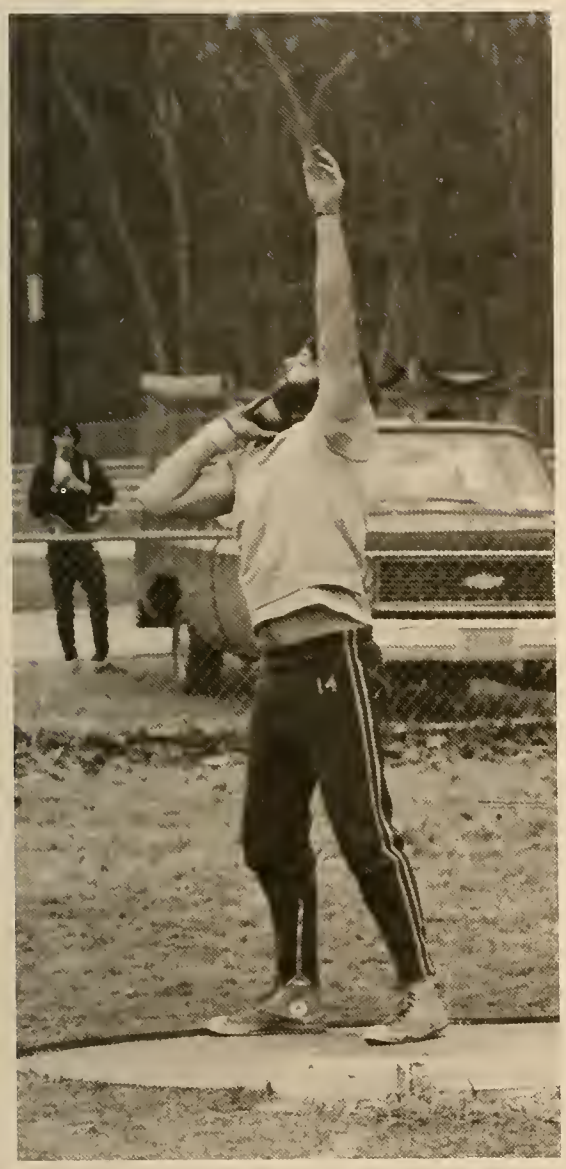
"The men's varsity track team is the most successful team on campus; and it will continue to be for the next several years," said coach Jerry Gravel.

This season's record of 12 wins and 5 losses in dual meets, and more importantly, WSC's winning of three of the last four Conference Championships (1974, 1975 and 1977) adequately support Gravel's statement. According to Gravel, the team will continue to be successful because most of the team is returning with the exception of four seniors who participated in the middle distance and distance events.

"Most of the team is made up of underclassmen, with a large percentage of freshmen and sophmores," he said. Some of the freshmen in particular have turned in surprising performances.

While WSC may have been successful overall, the team's true success is the number of individual performers who have qualified for post season competition.





Westfield Track Runners Place

The Westfield State Track Team came up with its most positive performance of the indoor season, as they placed three performers in the Eastern Indoor Championships held last Sunday at Southern Connecticut State College. Two Westfield State track team members achieved All New England College Division honors by finishing in the top three in their respective events. A third runner placed in the meet.

Russ Bosbach, Westfield's ace in the jumps, came up with a school record performance of 46' 4½" to take third place in the triple jump. Also receiving honors in the meet was Bruce Labonte, who raced to a third place finish with a personal best of 1:15.2 in the 600 yd. run. Quarter miler Pete Davenport also scored a personal best with a fifth-place, 51.9 performance.

Making it to the finals, but failing to place for Westfield were Joe Mandile in the shot put and Ron Lake in the 880. Mandile's throw of 47'8" established a new school record for the event.

This weekend Westfield will travel to Hartford University for the New England Indoor Championships. Qualifying for the meet and competing on Sunday will be Russ Bosbach in the triple jump and Luis Pizzaro in the high hurdles.

Us

It won't be long now before we all move on, apart but . . . still together.
Like puzzle pieces separated from its entirety . . . its whole.
We once were integral parts of another complex puzzle
But we separated, parted and disconnected to reach our forseeable goals.

* * * * * * * * * * *

It wasn't long before we made attachments to others
Then, together, we were brought closer by someone's magical and delicate hands.
We were shaped, placed and connected intimately involved.
Now we've reached our goals, obtained what we needed, now it's time to break joined hands.

* * * * * * * * * * *

Can we? Will we? Ever really leave behind this past?
To move on? Create our destiny?
Show what we've truly learned?
No. We'll never separate ourselves or disconnect the friendships.
We'll remain together, close and connected through our thoughts,
our love, our concern.

Chance and dreams have finally materialized

to lift me upward-

how ironic that

I get to strut and spread my feathers

in these last days .....
..... Is it really spring?

We go one cold day.
one warm day.
two cold days, one nice day-

but one sweet day
I'm gonna feel warm inside again .....
